Retreat Fee Includes:

Accommodations

The retreat will be held at the Short North Bed and Breakfast in Columbus, Ohio. Your fee includes 3 nights in one of the rooms in this bed and breakfast. Breakfast will be included each day. Lunch and dinner will be on your own, although we will make group reservations for those wanting to have dinner together each evening.

Time to Catch Up On Your Reading!

Lynsey and Franki will curate hundreds of their favorite recently published books that they use with children. These will be available to the group throughout the retreat. You'll have hours each day to read and catch up on the latest books being published for children. And of course there will be time for informal conversations with other teacher readers!

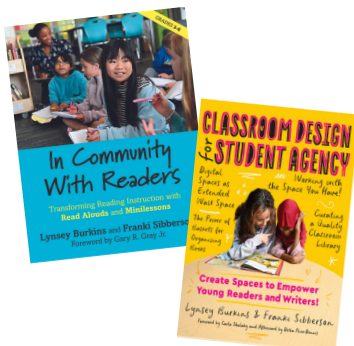

Bookstore Visits

Columbus is home to some of the best independent bookstores! Each day, we'll plan a visit to one of the bookstores for those who would like to join. We'll also have information available for other literacy places in Columbus that you may want to visit on your own.

Booktalks by Lynsey and Franki

Lynsey and Franki will booktalk some of their favorite books from the past year during the first day of the retreat. 100 books will be shared in a quick, fast-paced presentation. Throughout the retreat, XXX

Individual Conferences with Lynsey and Franki about Using Books in the Classroom

Each participant will have time to meet individually with Lynsey and Franki. Lynsey and Franki will serve as thinking partners for teachers as they think about using new books in their classrooms.
